FANNIE DOWLING HAS DISAPPEARED

Was Last Heard Of When She Came to Paducah.

That Was Ten Months Ago and She Was Accompanying Body of Aunt to This City.

KANSAS RELATIVES INQUIRE

Where is Fannie Dowling? If she is alive there is news for her at Osborne, Kan.

If she is dead C. J. Gillette, of that city, would like to get word.

Fannie Dowling came to Paducah ten months ago with the body of her aunt, which was to be buried here. She came from Kansas City, but seemingly dropped out of the knowledge of her relatives in the west after that.

Mayor Yeiser has been solicited to inquire if any one by her name has been buried here. He turned the communication over to the police department, and Chief Collins instituted a search for the woman.

There is no such name as Fannie Dowling among the burial permits, nor in the city directory.

HALTS RAILROAD TIMBER PLOT

Scheme to Control Minnesota Shipments Exposed.

Minneapolis, Oct. 13.—At a stumpage sale held by the state auditor today Attorney General E. T. Young exposed an order made jointly by the Northern Pacific and the Minnesota and International railroads which would give them the control of the shipment of more than a hundred million feet of state timber north of Bemidji.

A few weeks ago the two railroads wrote the state railroad and warehouse commission that the companies were not common carriers of logs. The commission in reply informed the railroads issuing the order that they were common carriers for all kinds of freight, and not only that, but they could not limit their carriage of logs to mills on their lines. As a result the state timber board, which has charge of this stumpage sale, withdrew 6,000,000 feet which was to be placed on sale today.

SPECIAL TRAINS.

Seven on N., C. & St. L. Include a Hundred Cars.

The Barnum & Bailey shows are being moved in four sections, 84 cars, from Jackson, Tenn., to Nashville; the Parker Amusement company's two specials of 24 cars, are being moved from Nashville to Jackson, and out of Nashville en route to New Orleans is a special train of six cars bearing delegates to the annual convocation of Knights of Pythias.

BLOODY RECORD

Official Report for Fifteen Months Discloses Activity of the Terrorists.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 13.—The Russian list of assassinations for fifteen months ending in May, just made public in the official reports, is exceedingly heavy, bespeaking activity of the terrorists and cruelty of the reactionaries, who attempted to revenge the murders of various authorities. The list includes the names of 34 governors, 38 police prefects, 204 police captains, 390 policemen, 61 army officers, 178 civil officers, 31 clergymen and 409 other persons.

Three Dead in Tunnel.

New York, Oct. 13.—Three men are believed to be dead as the result of an explosion today in the Pennsylvania tunnel under Long Island city, which set fire to timbers in the tunnel. Fifteen men were overcome but were rescued. The dead are supposed to have been cremated.

VIADUCT IDEA.

Taken Up in Earnest By West Side Citizens.

The matter of petitioning the city to build a viaduct at the Tennessee street crossing of the Illinois Central has aroused a great deal of interest not only among the residents of the west end but in railroad circles, and there is talk of asking the road to assist in the improvement.

Going under the tracks is an impossibility on account of high water in the spring. The hollows all fill within a few feet of the top of the grade. The saving in time to vehicles, pedestrians and to the railroad would amount to thousands of dollars in a few years.

SHOOTING

AFRAY BETWEEN FISHERMEN ON OHIO RIVER.

One Is Killed in House of Another, Which He Invaded—Slayer Gives Himself Up.

Cairo, Ill., Oct. 13.—A shooting affray occurred about 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at a houseboat lying a short distance above the Chicago mill in the Ohio river in which three fishermen were engaged, William Thomas and Edward Ross on the one side, and John Lewis on the other. Thomas and Lewis did the shooting and Ross, armed with a gun, threatened to shoot but did not. The affair occurred at the houseboat of Lewis, where his family lived and Thomas was killed in the house which, it seems he had invaded for the purpose of killing Lewis. After the shooting Lewis came down to the court house and surrendered himself to Circuit Clerk Davis, as the sheriff and jailer Riggins were both out, having gone on a hunt for Lewis.

Fire Chiefs Elect.

Y.; second vice president, Fillmore Tyson, of Louisville, Ky.; secretary, James McFall, of Roanoke, Va.; treasurer, D. C. Larkin, of Dayton, O. Washington D. C., was selected as the next meeting place winning from Boston by four votes.

WIFE'S POODLE

SAT AT TABLE WITH THE RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR.

But He Could Not Breathe Air of the Same Room With American Blue Jackets.

San Francisco, Cal., Oct. 13.—According to passengers arriving here on the Doric, the American colony in Japan is up in arms against the representatives of the Russian government over the action of the Russian ambassador.

He was dining with his wife at the Nikko hotel, which is a famous Japanese resort near Tokyo, when three American sailors entered, and he immediately demanded of the manager of the place that the sailors be ejected or he would leave. His wish was complied with.

The Russian ambassador was surrounded by American women, who with great spirit berated him in good strong Yankee language and several of the women refused to remain. The Japanese are said to have joined in the demonstration.

The Russian ambassador, whose name is Bashitoff, with his wife, who is of a Philadelphia family, was dining at the hotel and occupying a separate chair was the wife's pet poodle dog. The animal was given every attention and a maid was kept at hand to feed the animal with a spoon.

It is the daily average circulation of a newspaper that the shrewd advertiser investigates. "High Water" days don't count. The Sun's daily average last month was 8939.

BOATS COLLIDE ON HUDSON RIVER

One Dead and One Missing With Many Injured.

Saratoga and Adirondack Come Together and Former Sinks in Few Minutes.

ADIRONDACK DOES NOT PAUSE.

Tivoli, N. Y., Oct. 13.—One man is dead, one missing and a half a dozen passengers are injured as the result of a collision between the steamer Adirondack, of the Peoples Steamship company and the Saratoga, of the Troy Steamship company, on the Hudson river this morning. The ships came together two miles south of Tivoli in a dense fog. The City of Troy stood close by at the time of the collision and drew up alongside the Saratoga. The passengers were hurried aboard and taken to Tivoli. The chief engineer of the Saratoga was crushed to death when the collapse came. The fireman is missing. It is believed he is drowned. The boiler exploded and the Saratoga floated toward shore and sank with only her smokestack above the water. According to the captain of the Saratoga the Adirondack did not stop after the collision but left the passengers of the Saratoga to their fate. Only the presence of the City of Troy saved the eighty lives.

BOTH JUMPED

AND MRS. HILL FELL ON HER RIGHT SIDE BY THE ROAD.

It Was Thirty Six Hours Before She Recovered Sufficiently to Speak.

Mrs. T. L. Hill, of Sixth and Clay streets, has received a letter from her son, Dr. T. McK. Hill, the well known dentist, detailing the runaway in which he and his wife were thrown out a few days ago at Datto, Ark. Mrs. Hill was rendered unconscious and at the time the letter was written her recovery was problematic, although her husband believed she soon would be out of danger.

They were riding in a two-seated rig, and while the driver was watering his horses at a branch they began to run. The driver jumped out and fell, frightening the team. Dr. and Mrs. Hill, although having no means of guiding the horses, stayed in the rig until it was seen the horses would turn onto a road full of stumps.

They both jumped and Mrs. Hill alighted on her feet, but the momentum threw her on her right side and she laid unconscious. It was 36 hours before she was able to speak. Dr. Hill sustained a sprained hip and severe cuts.

PAVING COMPANY.

Moving Its Plant to Mississippi City.

After completing 30,000 yards of bitulithic street at a cost of about $75,000, the Southern Bitulithic company is preparing to remove its mixing plant and other property south, and already four car loads of machinery have been shipped to Hattiesburg, Miss., where the firm has $100,000 worth of contract work to perform. The company lost money on Broadway as it had to take the street up after a year's use and replace it.

Strike as Protest.

Lodz, Poland, Oct. 13.—Serious trouble is expected here as the result of the course adopted by Socialists in declaring a general strike as a protest against the drafthead courtmartial system, inaugurated for dealing with alleged Revolutionaries. Business is at a standstill. Factories are closed. Twenty-one terrorists were executed in Poland in the last two days. Socialist leaders immediately demanded a general strike as a protest.

STANDARD'S HAND.

Cincinnati, Oct. 13.—A fight for control of denatured alcohol, which may be manufactured for fuel purposes after the first of the year, has become so acute that a distilling company, with a capitalization of a million is being promoted by independent distillers. The plant may be located near Cincinnati and have a daily mashing capacity of 5,000 bushels. The Standard Oil company is said to be behind the project.

He was felled and when picked up was minus two teeth and his lip was split open.

He is a grandson of C. W. Wooldridge the well-known pattern maker.

CURREY DISLIKED THE CONFINEMENT

So He Drew Himself In And Percolated Through Bars.

In His Barefeet He Is Running Away From Fine of Twenty-Five Dollars.

ESCAPE SEEMS MARVELOUS

Discarding his rubber boots to facilitate travel, Isaiah Currey, colored, percolated through a small hole between the bars in the city lockup this morning at 10 o'clock and escaped. The gait he struck on gaining the open air would make a Pacific type locomotive go to the round house in shame, and when last seen Currey was still going.

Currey is employed by local livermen to wash buggies. He got boisterous on the streets and used rough language. He was fined this morning in police court $25 and "trimmings" and locked up. The lock is a heavy padlock and impossible to break by ordinary means. Currey looked at it long and wistfully. He remarked to women prisoners that it was h— to be locked up. No more attention was paid to the prisoner until several negro women ran up into the hall and imparted the startling information that Currey "de man wif de bare feet" had run off.

The officials got out in time to see Currey turn down South Sixth street. An examination showed that Currey had forced his body through a hole about eight inches wide and a foot high. It appears hardly large enough for the passage of an ordinary person's head.

BURNING SLACK

QUENCHED BY FLOODS FROM SWITCH ENGINES.

Sparks Ignited Pile and Whole Battery of Locomotives Played Water on Embers.

By excellent work on the part of several switch engine crews a serious fire at the coal chute in the Illinois Central south yards was averted yesterday afternoon. A spark from an engine ignited the slack at the north end of the chute. The fire had gained some little headway before engines were summoned. With the fire fighting apparatus installed several weeks ago on each switch engine in the yards the crews poured hundreds of gallons of water onto the burning coal and extinguished the fire before the timbers had become well ignited. The damage is light.

FELL FROM WAGON.

TRACKS BLOCKADED.

And Chicago Passengers Are Transferred Here.

Passengers en route to Chicago from Nashville and the south over the Illinois Central had to come via Paducah last night, suffering a delay of several hours. The fast flyer from Nashville to Chicago got no further than Princeton, being stopped by a blockade of the tracks between Princeton and Henderson. The Paducah wrecker was sent out and passengers were transferred to Paducah to take the Chicago train out of here. This they were unable to do until 9:30 o'clock this morning. They come here on No. 103 at 3:40 o'clock this morning.

STANDARD OIL

LOSES ON EVERY POINT IN CASE IN OHIO COURT.

Prosecution's Careful Preparations Telling in Disputes Over Competency.

Findlay, O., Oct. 13.—Triumphs for the prosecution followed each other today in quick succession in the case of the state against the Standard Oil company, the state attorneys winning every contention where the competency of evidence was the question.

One of the most significant features was the admission by Frederick T. Cuthbert, of Lima, president of the Manhattan Oil company, that his company was paying 20 cents a barrel for oil in the North Lima field where the Standard has competition, and selling this oil to the Trainer Oil company, another of the alleged Standard subsidiary concerns, at a net loss of five cents a barrel.

Two Attachments.

New York, Oct. 13.—Deputy Sheriff Burnes has received two attachments against Lee S. Bernheim, wholesale whisky dealer of Louisville, Ky., one for $22,500, in favor of Douglas McKee, and the other for $12,417, in favor of James Shirley, in suits to recover stocks of the Giron Consolidated Mines company, of 42 Broadway, which were pledged with Mr. Bernheim as collateral for loans; and which it is asserted Mr. Bernheim refuses to return, although the amount of the loans with interest has been tendered to him.

MAD DOG

HIT DAN WILLIS' ON THE LEG YESTERDAY MORNING.

He Attempted to Protect His Own Dog When He Was Attacked—Both Dogs Ran.

Although the mad dog that terrorized the south side two nights ago has not yet been captured so far as learned, stories of encounters with it continue to come in, and Dan Willis, of 1033 North Twelfth street, the popular agent for the Singer Sewing machine, had an experience with the rabid animal that still gives him chills.

He was going out the Blandville road yesterday morning, when he encountered the mad dog. It sprang at his dog and he interfered. Then the mad dog jumped at Mr. Willis' throat and he knocked it away, whereupon it stuck its fangs in the calf of his leg and returned to the attack on his dog.

While Mr. Willis was searching for a missile his own dog ran for home and the other disappeared down the road.

Tommy Shannon Dead.

PLEASANT MEMORY OF HORSE SHOW

Good Words For Exhibition Heard Everywhere.

Scott Isbell Liked It and Says So, While Nashville Does Not Compare.

ATTENDANCE WAS EXCELLENT

Harry Johnston, treasurer for the Paducah Driving association at the recent horse show, has completed his report to the association on attendance. Notwithstanding weather, the total attendance for the three nights was 3,850. All accounts have not been checked but from indications the horse show will just break even about.

In an interview concerning the horse show James M. Lang said: "Probably the horse show was more appreciated by me than by any other exhibitor at the recent meeting.

of the show, presented my horse "Miss Mattie Fowler on the eve Rebel Dare with a pair of handsome sterling silver rosettes bearing initials in raised letters thereon in honor of his handsome mother, named by me for Miss Mattie, when I brought her to Paducah some years since.

"This intensified my desire to have Rebel Dare bear those rosettes to victory and he did so splendidly, being awarded first in every ring, and twice defeating the only horse which turned down his mother.

"I was the only exhibitor, except Hume Ogilvie, who bred, reared, trained and exhibited my own horses, and I captured five blue ribbons on the youngsters in addition to first on Anna Lee for the best saddle bred mare and secured the cup and blue ribbon riding Maggie McClellan.

"I appreciate the opportunity given me to exhibit my stock and am genuinely grateful for the many winnings especially those made by Rebel Dare."

A Comparison.

"It is only by comparison that we learn to appreciate things as we should," said Mr. Fendol Burnett today, prefacing some comments on the horse show, which Nashville has been holding this week.

"I was at the Nashville horse show this week, which is being held in connection with the Tennessee state fair, and which one would think would attract the best of entries, but I did not see a ring with the exception of the double harness event, that could in any measure compare with the rings at Paducah's show last week. The light harness events, and the saddle and other events were not in the same class at all."

President Robert B. Phillips, of the horse show association, received a Danville paper today which contained an interview with Mr. Scott Isbell, who officiated as one of the judges at the show last week, in which he gives the show a good send-off, and letters received from visiting horsemen praise the show highly.

HONORS ARE EVEN IN CHAMPIONSHIP

Nationals Defeat Americans One to Nothing.

Fourth Game of Series Between Chicago Pennant Winners Is Over.

THE SCORE AND THE GAME.

Chicago, Ill., Oct. 13.—The world's championship baseball series is again even, the local National league team defeating the Americans by a score of 1 to nothing. Each side has now won two games. Altrick, for the Americans, and Brown for the Nationals, pitchers who opposed each other in the opening game which was won by Altrick's team again contested for supremacy. Brown was at his best. He showed nerve, speed, control and intelligence in serving to batsmen the kind of curves they like the least. He gave only two passes and allowed only two hits. He held the Americans hitless until the sixth inning, when, with two out, Hahn hit cleanly to center, Jones, however, promptly ended the inning by flying out to Schulte.

The Nationals looked dangerous as early as the second inning, when Steinfeldt hit to center and reached third on Tinker's sacrifice, and Evers out. Kling, always a formidable batsman, was up and Altrick deliberately attempted to pass him with the hope that Brown, the next batter, would go out easily after the fashion of most pitchers. Kling, however, reached for one of the wide ones and lifted a mighty fly into right field. Hahn, however, raced back and saved the day at least temporarily by making a magnificent catch while bending back over the wire cable used to hold back the crowd.

The Americans made their only real bid for the game when Rohe reached first on Steinfeldt's bad throw and third on a sacrifice and an out. Brown, however, showed his nerve by striking out Davis, who was again back in the game at short in place of Tannehill.

The Nationals earned the run which won the game. Chance sent a fly to short right field, reached second and third on sacrifices by Steinfeldt and Tinker. Evers placed a single over third base and Chance scored.

In the ninth McFarland batted for Altrick and went out Steinfeldt to Chance. Hahn flew out to Tinker. Then Jones raised the fluttering hopes of the Sox cohorts by waiting for four bad ones and going to second when the ball got past Kling and hit the umpire. Under the rules Jones was entitled to a base. A good hit would have tied the game at this point and with Isbell at the bat the hopes of the Americans were high. The big second baseman swung viciously at a waist-high ball and connected squarely. It went like a cannon shot right at Brown's face. Brown had barely time to get his hands on the ball and the force of the blow laid him flat on his back.

For a moment it looked as if he had been dazed by the fall, but he recovered and threw the runner out at first ending the game.

Brown had pitched a masterly game, and the usual crowd of enthusiasts swarmed on to the field and fought for a chance to pat him on the back. He had fairly to fight to get out of the grounds.

Hoffman, who had made a magnificent running catch in right center of Hahn's low fly, Evers, who had turned apparent hits into putouts, and Captain Chance also came in for their share of approbation.

The attendance reflected the improved weather, the official count showing 18,395 paid admissions. This was the last game in which the players share gate money. The total receipts for the four games were $61,855, of which $33,401.70 goes to the players. Of this sum 75 percent will go to the team winning the series and the remainder to the loser.

Notes of the Game.
—One of the remarkable things in connection with the four games so far played is that neither team has won a game on its own grounds.

The White Sox have outlived all their best twirlers while Chance has still a couple of good ones in reserve. On the dope the Cubs ought to break up the see-saw and win today, making it two in succession.

So far the Cubs have outlived and outfielded the Sox in the four games. In addition they lead in sacrificing and base running.

In the series of five games played in 1905 between the Cubs and Sox, the former won four games to the Sox's one.

THREE NEW COUNTS

AGAINST W. B. SMITH, FORMER BANK PRESIDENT.

Involves Two Accounts of $30,000 and $2,500 Each, the Latter the Toof Loan.

A new indictment containing three additional counts was returned by the federal grand jury yesterday afternoon against William B. Smith, former president of the Western National bank who is under indictment for embezzlement and falsifying entries in connection with the closing of the bank last year. The new indictment, it is believed by the federal authorities, will strengthen materially the case of the government against him.

One of the new counts charges that Mr. Smith caused to be discounted a note of F. P. Toof for $2,500, and converted the proceeds to the joint use and benefit of himself and Toof without any indorsement or security and without the knowledge and consent of the directors of the bank. According to the government's contention, such action constitutes a fraudulent misapplication of the bank's money.

Another count charges that Mr. Smith converted $30,000 of indebtedness to the bank and misapplied it by procuring an authority from the board of directors by false representation for that amount and to charge off a like amount of notes due the bank.

The other count charges a willful misapplication of $5,000 of the $30,000 by crediting the same to the account of a solvent debtor to the bank.

Under the provisions of the federal law the bringing of a new indictment without giving a preliminary hearing to the accused gives him the privilege of continuance until the succeeding term of court. Smith is under $5,000 bonds to appear at the time of the calling of his case, which, it is said, will be at the March term of the court.

ON BLIND BAGGAGE.
Was Way Peter Beckenbach Traveled Part Way.

Mr. Peter Beckenbach, a delegate to the Grand Lodge I. O. O. F. at Harrodsburg, from Paducah, knows what it is to be a hobo. He did not willingly subject himself to the ordeal of a ride on the blind baggage and as a result has a severe burn on his left arm and a wild ride from Princeton, Ky., to Dawson Springs on No. 102, the fastest train on the Louisville division of the Illinois Central.

Beckenbach left the train at Princeton to secure a cup of coffee, and when leaving the restaurant saw the train pulling out. The vestibules were closed and he was forced to swing onto the blind baggage.

A GREAT ADDRESS BY FATHER NAGLE

Teeming With Patriotism And Devotion.

Knights of Columbus Scored Big Triumph With Entertainment on Landing Day.

LARGE CROWD WAS PRESENT

It made American blood pulse hot to listen to the speech of the Rev. Father Nagle at the Columbus Landing day exercises held in the Kentucky theater last night. Father Nagle is an able orator, a trained educationist and a platform entertainer of unusual grace and presence, to listen to whose voice is a pleasure. He is actuated by the purest sense of patriotism and religious devotion, and his address was punctuated with applause.

His lecture was divided into two parts and a most excellent musical program was rendered during the evening. Among the singers were a quartette composed of Walter Clark, Harry Collins, Will Green and Ed Scott. Their two numbers both elicited encores. Miss Mamie Dryfuss, Miss Anne Bradshaw and Mr. Evert Thompson, who sang solos, were compelled to respond to a demand for encores. Miss Isabel Mohan presided at the piano in her usual perfect fashion.

On the stage with the speaker were J. T. Donovan, whose guest Father Nagle was, and a number of the Knights of Columbus.

J. J. Dorian, the popular city treasurer, introduced the speaker in happy fashion and suggested that Landing day should be recognized as a legal holiday. He predicted that it will in the near future.

In closing Father Nagle paid a tribute to the Knights of Columbus that apparently met with the hearty accord of the audience. The house was filled and the Knights of Columbus scored a great success with their entertainment.

Get Well Acquainted With The Mutual Life

It has been in existence sixty-three years. Public confidence and patronage have made it and kept it the largest and staunchest Life Insurance company in the world. It is owned by its policyholders. It protects thousands, but there are many others who should have the same protection. How about you? People who are so thoughtful and kind as to wish to provide as they can to-day for what will happen some other day, when they are taken from those they love and support, should get acquainted with

The Mutual Life Insurance Company

Let them read its history; analyze its statements; examine its investments; consult its agents. They will find a reason for its strength and stability and a reason for their confidence and patronage.

The new management of the Mutual Life has been in control for nine months. Its report for the first six months will be mailed to anyone on request, or may be had of its agents. It tells what has been accomplished in conformity with the new Insurance Laws; shows the vast reductions, and indicates the unusual advantages yet to reach its policyholders. Its plain figures, given in a plain way, will convince any fair-minded person that The Mutual Life to-day justifies the good opinion of Bishop Chas. C. McCabe, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who recently said:—

"After long and careful consideration, I am thoroughly satisfied that the present administrations of both companies (the New York Life and the Mutual Life) are now effecting great economies and reformation, and that these institutions, purged as by fire, are now in a position to afford the protection of life insurance in better form, and on better terms, than any known in the past."

It justifies also the good opinion of Mr. James C. Colgate and his associates, who, having policies to the amount of $3,000,000 in the Mutual Life, recently "resolved that the present executive officers and trustees are, in the opinion of the Policyholders' Protective Association of the Mutual Life, faithful to its interests, and that their administration of its affairs has been and is efficient, economical and beneficial to the policyholders."

If you would like to know for yourself the latest phases of Life Insurance, or wish information concerning any form of policy, consult our nearest agent or write direct to

If you suffer from any kind of female troubles, don't hesitate to take Wine of Cardui. It is a medicine which, for over half a century, has proved of remarkable efficacy in just such diseases.

"For the last nine years", writes Sam'l. L. Davidson, the well known real estate operator of 1655 Elliot St., Denver, Colo., "my wife suffered from female troubles, and if it had not been for she would be suffering yet. I broke up my business East to bring her here, but it did not improve her general health. Our physician could not help her, and all his skill came to naught. She asked him if there was no known cure for female trouble. He said there was a patent medicine, but would not tell her its name. So she asked her druggist, and he recommended Wine of Cardui. After trying it, my wife says that Cardui, with plenty of fresh air, will do more than all the doctors combined, and we recommend it to all female sufferers, where no surgical operation is necessary." Try it for periodical pains.

The Week In Society.

"FAREWELLS-TO-SUMMER."

(The name given by the mountaineers of North Carolina to the wild aster.)

Bright dashes of crimson are gleaming below;

The skies overhead are with splendor aglow;

While the crispness of autumn is in the air,

And "farewells-to-summer" are every where.

In purple and lilac, in yellow and white

They wave us adieu as we pass out of sight;

Ah, waking dear memories, softly they tell—

Their farewells to "summer—farewell! farewell!

The rose loves the soft summer sunshine and air,

But these patiently wait till autumn is here,

Then scatter their loveliness where'er they dwell,

As their farewells to summer. Farewell! farewell!

The message they give as they nod us good-bye

Is one they have learned looking up to the sky;

Ah! the heart of the hopeful fears not to tell

Its farewells to summer. Farewell! farewell!

—Mrs. S. O'H. Dickson, in the Pilgrim for October.

Professor Had Last Laugh.

President Hadley, of Yale, was talking about his student days. "I remember a stately and venerable professor," he said, upon whom some sophomore once tried to play a trick.

"The professor, one morning, being unable to attend to his class on account of a cold, wrote on a blackboard:

"Dr. Dash, through indisposition, unable to attend to his classes today."

"The students erased one letter in this notice, making it read:

"Dr. Dash, through indisposition, is unable to attend his classes today."

"But it happened a few minutes later that the professor returned for a box he had forgotten. Amid a roar of laughter he detected the change in his notice and, approaching the blackboard, calmly erased one letter in his turn.

"Now the notice reads:

"Dr. Dash, through indisposition, is unable to attend to his asses today."—Columbus Dispatch.

Pinless Chinese.

A member of the Chinese legation clad in splendid pale-blue silks, stood before the Casino at Newport.

"Pins," he said, "cause untidy habits. We have no pins in China. The right way to fasten things is with buttons and button holes or with loops and frogs. To fasten things with pins is to make use of an untidy makeshift. To employ pins is to become lazy and slovenly.

"We have no pins in China. Certain foreign manufacturers shipped millions of them to us in the past, but we sent them back. We had no use for them. We were too neat."—Providence Journal.

The Commonwealth

PAID HIS ESTATE $700

Mr. William Lambert carried three Industrial Policies with the COMMONWEALTH, and the following letter is another illustration of the way in which this company does business. The COMMONWEALTH is the only company issuing Industrial Policies that are payable IMMEDIATELY AND IN FULL, no matter when death occurs. Other companies pay only a part if insured dies within a year from time policy is issued. Investigate the COMMONWEALTH—its policies cost no more and you can be sure of a "square deal" to you and your heirs. See what Mrs. Lambert says.

COMMONWEALTH LIFE INSURANCE CO.,
Louisville, Ky.

Gentlemen—Please accept my sincere thanks for the promptness with which you have settled the claim under policies 1066, 2136 and 17905, under which my husband, William Lambert, was insured, amounting to Seven Hundred Dollars ($700.00).

I would recommend that all who are desirous of carrying Industrial Insurance take it with the COMMONWEALTH.

First—Because it is a HOME COMPANY.

Second—Because its policies are in Full Immediate Benefit.

Third—Because, being a HOME COMPANY, they are in a position to settle their claims so much quicker than other companies, as the claim I had with them was settled before the proofs of death had been taken by the other company in which he was insured.

Very truly yours,
LAURA LAMBERT, Beneficiary.

ABOUT BUILDING UP.

A building, however ornate and architecturally perfect to the eye, is not a good investment if it is laid on a foundation inherently weak, and the first thing to be done with it for the sake of safety is to strengthen the foundation, even if some of the superstructure must temporarily be torn away. In all his speeches defining the policy, which has guided the conduct of his administration President Roosevelt has clearly shown that he is not engaged in "tearing down," as John D. Rockefeller argued, that commercial supremacy, and those institutions which the brains of the country have spent so many years in "building up." It is to perpetuate these "individual enterprises" that the president is taking so much supervising interest in them and the Standard Oil magnate and his fellows, must have lost much of that farsightedness by which they were enabled to construct such gigantic enterprises, not to grasp the real significance of his conduct. It is because these narrow minded creatures have gone on and on, ruthlessly turning every penny to account regardless of the rights of their patrons and the public, that such mountebanks as Hearst can flourish. Some time the menace of paternalism might become serious were it not for the common sense intervention of Roosevelt. He has taken in hand the duty of ascertaining where the state's authority in the matter of controlling commerce leaves off and that of the national government begins, and he intends to fill in the gaps through which so long private enterprise has attained its rank growth. With the superficial evils of the great industries removed and kept away, the talk on radical socialism, communism, paternalism and anarchy will die for lack of material. Roosevelt is the best friend individual enterprise ever had. He is not tearing down. He is building up American enterprises, but he is making sure the foundation is all right this time. The American people want the least possible government consonant with justice and the protection of individual rights. There was a time when the Democracy stood for the extreme of this idea; but what with the government ownership of railroads and the Hearst propaganda its leaders seem to have gone astray after strange issues, and it devolves upon a Republican president to embody in his attitude the essence of all that one time made Democracy a vital force.

There may be a motive deeper than the simple hope of lessening the loneliness of her prospective widower, in the idea of the Colorado woman, who talks daily into a phonograph in order that her sorrowing husband may be soled by the sound of her posthumous voice. She may take some thought to the effect of this canned conversation on a possible successor in her husband's affections. As an infallible, ready-to-use, efficacious "bait," we could recommend to the dubious feminine mind no more pitiless instrument than a voice from the grave emitted through a tin funnel in a drawing room.

In California hereafter dairymen will be known by their smooth shaven faces, as the State Dairy association declared the milk man's whiskers to be the abiding place of germs. Here in Kentucky we have not reached that ineffable state of aestheticism, but we confess to a well defined aversion to getting the cow's tail in the milk bucket.

It sounds almost uncanny to those who know its record, to hear the Fourth street organ prattling the praises of a Democratic machine; but the noise must be mighty comforting in some quarters. We hardly believe the public will reinstate the gang it turned out two years ago even if the fickle organ has turned "regular."

It requires strong measures to keep the memory of the vice president of the United States green. First Mr. Fairbanks lost control of his automobile and ran down a farmer. Now his only son elopes. At the rate he is letting things get away from him, his friends are apprehensive the presidential nomination may slip by.

It may be bad policy to swap horses in the middle of the stream, but Manuel S. Silvera, the Havana defaulter, found it to his advantage to exchange boats in the middle of the ocean.

DEATHS OF A DAY

Matthew E. Ham.

Matthew E. Ham, 43 years old, one of the best known traveling salesmen in west Kentucky, died this morning at 2 o'clock of apoplexy at his home, 313 North Sixth street. Early the evening before he suffered a partial stroke and never rallied, passing away without recovering consciousness. Matthew E. Ham was born at Paradise, Muhlenburg county, December 13, 1862, and on June 8, 1887, he married Miss Lona Ewell, of this city, who with their two children, Miss Caroline Ham, music teacher in the public schools, and Miss Ewell Ham, survive him. He is also survived by one brother, Luther Ham, of Muhlenburg county.

After his marriage Mr. Ham entered business for himself as a merchant in Christian county. Later he went on the road as traveling salesman, making his headquarters for six years in Birmingham, Ala. Five years ago he took up his residence in Paducah, and since has been selling coffee and kindred staples to the trade of western Kentucky, west Tennessee and southern Illinois. He was a man of large proportions, weighing nearly 300 pounds, and of great stature, his striking appearance and genial disposition won him hosts of friends in his territory, and his familiar figure will be missed by the retail dealers of all the towns within 100 miles of Paducah. He returned from a trip two days ago, apparently in his usual health. The funeral will take place at the residence tomorrow afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The Rev. W. E. Cave and the Rev. T. J. Newell will officiate. The burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Amy Richards Total Loss. Sandusky, O., Oct. 13.—The schooner, Amy Richards which went ashore during the storm recently, and was credited a total loss, is being stripped, preparatory to abandonment. There was no insurance on the boat. The cargo was covered by insurance.

Mr. Cecil Reed has returned from business trip to Louisville.

WRONG DEAL

IT IS CLAIMED INGRAM STACKED DEAL FOR GROCERIES.

Arrested by Policeman After Right Deal Had Been Garnished—Case Set.

Magistrate Charles Emery has set for hearing Monday afternoon the case of Rudy Ingram, colored, charged with obtaining groceries fraudulently.

Ingram went to John Ward's grocery, Caldwell and Eleventh streets, and bought groceries. It is charged, under the name of Will Deal, who worked for the Illinois Central. He said that he had been trading at John Dippie's. The grocery man telephoned to Dippie and found that Deal was good. The Illinois Central officials also said he was "good" for the bill. Sixteen dollars worth of groceries were sold the negro, but the negro refused to pay. A garnish followed in the name of William Deal and Deal came down to prove his identity. He was not the Deal who bought the groceries.

Ingram was arrested by Patrolmen Hurley who caught him last night near the railroad, while he was preparing to leave the city.

CHURCH CRISIS NEAR IN SPAIN

Clash Expected When Cortes Reassembles on Oct. 20.

Madrid, Oct. 13.—Upon the reassembling of the cortes October 20, the vatican and the liberal government of Marshal Lopez Dominguez will cross swords over the church issue. While the actual question of the separation of church and state in Spain, the stronghold of Catholicism, is not to be immediately raised as in France, the democratic program of the liberals is distinctly anti-clerical and if it progresses successfully is sure ultimately to lead to an open fight for the severance of the ties which bind the vatican and the Bourbon dynasty.

SHOT IN THE DARK.

Hit True and Bargar Died in the Alley.

Chicago, Oct. 13.—The discovery in an alley today of a well-dressed man started the police on the investigation of a possible murder mystery. It developed later the man was killed by J. M. Smith. Smith was awakened during the night by the noise of a burglar breaking into his home. He seized a pistol and fired two shots. The man ran out, proceeded a short distance and dropped dead.

Lydecker's route runs through the Peekskill mountains and covers 27 miles. He made the journey yesterday in three hours and three-quarters while with a horse and wagon it takes him eight hours to cover the ground.

How the Blood Flow Affects Health.
Few people appreciate the necessity of keeping the blood in every way in good condition if they would have good health.

There are two factors in disease, which, by an endless variety of changes and combinations define every departure from normal conditions.

These are the BLOOD and the NERVES. They sustain life, and END IT.

The blood must maintain a steady, swift and equal flow or bad consequences follow. Every organ and tissue must get its right share of blood, no more, no less, stop it and the system is soon poisoned with accumulated body sewage, and lack of proper nourishment sets up, headaches, tired, worn out sensations, no life, no energy and other kindred ailments follow.

Right the blood flow, and they all leave.

This is the Osteopathic theory. It merely goes back to the beginning of disease. It finds most disease is associated with an abnormal blood flow.

Especially during the fall and winter months it is necessary to keep the blood flow right. Exercise of the right sort is a good stimulant for circulation, but the dry hot air treatment, followed by the Osteopathic treatments, which I am giving with such marked good results, is the best treatment yet discovered.

Why? Simply because they go to the basis.

Come to see me at any time and I can easily satisfy you that I can soon build up the run-down system, while you are attending to your usual duties. I shall, too, be pleased to refer you to people you know well who are enthusiastic in their praise of the treatments.

Children have tender stomachs

Most Physics are Dangerous

A child's stomach is very tender and cannot digest food as well as an adult's, and neither can it stand the explosive purgatives which adults are often persuaded to take for constipation and other stomach disorders. Many parents give their children such physics as salts, or the ordinary pills and tablets, that are pleasant to take because of their taste. A child that is dosed with such physics soon forms a habit which if continued means a permanent loss of health. A physic will be constantly required to move the bowels. Children do not object to taking as much as they do even the most palatable candy preparations, and the effect upon them is a thousand times more beneficial. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a cure for all stomach disorders. It is the very best cure for children and adults. It does not create a habit. It cures. In all cases of indigestion, dyspepsia, chronic or acute constipation, biliousness, and all other disorders arising from stomach trouble of any kind it is a quick and positive cure. All druggists sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin for 50c and $1.00 a bottle.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

A New Microbe.

They have discovered a new microbe in New York and it is quite popular among actors and the society women. It is called the chromophore, its special function being to turn the hair gray at a comparatively early age. The handsomest actor who has those white hairs on his temple that the women admire so is full of the chromophores. Baldheaded men are immune from the microbes. He only attacks the hair and a man with out hair need not worry about the chromophore. For years it was thought that a process of the blood killed the coloring matter of the hair cells, but scalpologists in New York combat that theory. They say it is the Chromophore. The microbes does not like heat, and for that reason the woman who uses the curling tongs is less likely to have gray hair than the one who puts her hair up in papers.

Popcorn for Seasickness.

It is not generally known that popcorn is one of the best remedies for nausea caused by sea-sickness or car-sickness. In one case known to the writer a lady starting on an overland journey of several days' duration was, before many hours had passed, attacked by the usual symptoms. She decided to try the new remedy whatever it might be, that she had been assured she would find in a good-sized tin box that had been given her at her departure. Although rather incredulous, the traveler tried the popcorn she found in the box and, to her gratification, the nausea gradually disappeared. She ate freely of the corn every day whenever there was the slightest indication of nausea, and, thanks to the simple precaution, the journey was accomplished with an unwonted degree of comfort.

His Golden Opportunity.

A Baltimore man tells of an address made to some school children in that city by a member of the board of trustees:

"My young friends," said the speaker, "let me urge upon you the necessity of not only reading good books, but of owning them, so that you may have access to them at all times. When I was a young man, I used frequently to work all night to earn money to buy books and then get up before daylight to read them."

HONOR ROLL FOR THE HIGH SCHOOL

Will Be Published Every Four Weeks By Faculty.

Enrollment Has Increased to Extent
That Several Buildings Are Crowded.

CADET CLASS MORE POPULAR.

A new feature tending to promote interest in school work has been inaugurated by the faculty in the Paducah High school. This is the publication of names of pupils who win "special mention" for their work. For every four weeks of school the faculty will prepare a list of the names for publication and the pupils who received honorary mention for the first four weeks of the present term follow.

Honorary mention for deportment and interest in work: Marjorie Mammen, Mildred Piper, Ellen Rutterka, Kate Steinhauer, Essie Smith, Ella Wilhelm, Marion Williamson, Mary Wheeler, R. J. Barham, Bertram Brown, Chester Kerth, Anabel Acker, Mary Bondurant, Bell Nichols, Jessie Acker, Eleanor Cabell, Martha Cope, Kathleen Garrow, Jessie Gourteux, Pauline Hank, India Lang, Chesie Lane, George Katterjohn, Chesie Leigh, George Rawleigh, Ray Ragland, Felix St. John.

Honorary mention for interest in work:

Neil Piper, Saldee Smith, Marguerite Schwab, Grace Schale, Clara Smith, Lucette Soule, Clara Belle Thompson, Helen Thompson, Lucie Well, Elizabeth Weemer, Harry Burnham, Gus Elliott, Will Rock, Scholarship:

Mary Cave, Anna Eades, Katherine Eccles, Allie D. Foster, Marjorie Flegle, Virginia Gilbert, Eleanor Hock, Virginia Holland, Vera Johnston, Lillie Mae Maret, Ruth Chesney, Will Rock, Frank Young. Honorary mention for deportment: Ellice Coleman.

Overflowed Schools.
The enrollment in the schools is larger than ever before and three schools are overflowed, necessitating the purchase of more seats. This morning another 100 seats were ordered. The Washington school at the close of the first four weeks had a total of 925, the McKinley, 217; and Franklin, 370. They are crowded.

Football Game.
Metropolis and Cairo both have games today. Next Saturday the initial game of the season for the locals will be played here against Metropolis. The boys are out selling tickets and want to make it a financial success.

Cadet Class a Go.
The Cadet class has been organized with six members of the graduating class and several others are thinking of going in. The work is in pedagogy and special branches of French, German and history.

Elevator Talked Of.
There is talk of asking for an elevator in the High school next year. There are four stories to the building and an elevator would be of great convenience. One could easily be installed running through the office of Principal Payne on the second floor and straight through two cloak rooms on the other floors.

Davis Island Dam	6.5	0.2	rise
St. Louis	8.3	0.3	fall
Mt. Vernon	8.9	0.4	rise
Paducah	17.6	1.3	fall

The river is falling and probably will continue to do so till the next rains. The stage today is 17.6, a fall of 1.3 in the last 24 hours.

Joe St. John, recently appointed government inspector, is gaining a reputation up and down the rivers in his territory for his ability. All the engineers know they have to toe the mark when our Joe gets to work.

The up trips to the Tennessee river, of the Kentucky and Clyde have from 10 to 20 thousand bricks as an item in the freight business. Bricks are the hardest freight to handle, a boat carries. They cut the rousters' hands in handling and take up much time in stacking them straight. The Kentucky will leave at 6 o'clock this evening for the Tennessee river.

The Henry Harley arrived last night at 2 o'clock and left at 5 o'clock this morning on the return trip to Evansville. The Paducah-Evansville schedules have been turned inside out.

The Buttorff will arrive from Nashville Sunday night and wait over till Monday noon before leaving for Clarksville.

The Sallito will arrive out of the Tennessee river tonight or Sunday morning on the return trip to St. Louis.

The magnificent United States snagboat Woodruff passed up from Cairo yesterday at noon for Louisville.

Joe Singer, a native born German, is acting as night wharfmaster while John Street is sick. Joe has worked on the great Hamburg-American ocean greyhounds and when asked, ironically, if they were as big as the steamer Clyde, he replied with mingled disgust and pity for the speaker's ignorance, "You could put the Clyde in the coal bunkers of one of their boats, and never know it was there."

The Dick Fowler got away monotonously on time this morning for Cairo.

Official Forecasts.

The Ohio at Evansville and Mt. Vernon will continue rising slowly during the next 24 to 36 hours. At Paducah and Cairo will fall during the next several days. The fall at Cairo during the next 12 hours will amount to a little over a foot.

The Tennessee from Florence to the mouth will continue falling rapidly.

The Mississippi from below St. Louis to Cairo, will continue falling.

IN GUTTER

STILL FORM OF ROBERT BUTTS
WAS LYING LAST NIGHT.

One Dollar and Costs Were Assessed
Against Him for It—Cocaine
Case Stands.

Robert Butts "the murdered man," was fined $1 and costs in police court this morning for the stunt he pulled off last night by arousing a neighborhood and causing wild reports of a murder throughout the city. Butts' still form was discovered in the gutter at Seventh and Clay streets, by a negro boy who was trudging home from his work in a barber shop last night between 9 and 10 o'clock. The negro did not stop to investigate but ran until he reached the nearest telephone and summoned policemen. Butts was dead drunk and it was hours before he could give his name.

L. M. Stephon was fined $50 and costs in one case and dismissed in two others for selling cocaine.

Other cases: Henry Petter, shooting inside the city limits, $5 and costs; D. R. Smalley, breach of ordinance, $5 and costs; Arthur Dunn, disorderly conduct, $5 and costs; Florence Grear, colored, disorderly conduct $10 and costs; Ben Michael, disposing of property without authority, continued.

BANK CLEARINGS ON THE INCREASE

Advance Over One Year Ago
Is $83,159.

Paducah Business Men Interested in Statement That Cut-Off Is Abandoned.

HOUSES ARE READILY RENTED.

Clearings at the banks $738,699
Same week last year 655,540
Increase 83,159

Any authoritative announcement in railroad circles is interesting, but the statement of the general manager of the Illinois Central as announced in The Sun this week that the cut-off from Gilbertsville to Mayfield would not be built, is especially interesting to the business men of the city. It would be a blow to Paducah even if other big trunk lines should build into the city. Incidentally, the decision shows the present and increasing importance of Paducah.

The week otherwise has not been marked by any significant development in business circles. The bank clearings are keeping up well and the distribution of goods in all lines out of this city has not decreased in volume. Demand for money at the banks is firm and the rate somewhat above normal. Building operations are active all over the city.

It is evident that many of the cheaper grade of houses are vacant over the city, but the better classes are filling up.

Bradstreet's Weekly Report.

New York, Oct. 13.—The cold weather has greatly stimulated the many lines of retail trade hitherto inclined to lag, notable in this respect being the heavy weight clothing, shoe and rubber footwear and induced some reorder business with the jobbers, who are still busy on regular trade. The early advent of snow and frost has done some damage is evident in the report of injury to fruit orchards, vines and tobacco plants in the west, and rumors of frost damage to cotton in the south. Railways seem to keep finding increased difficulty in handling the traffic offering and fears of future great congestion are expressed. The price situation as a whole is one of great strength, October 1 prices being at a record level. For the week the features in speculative circles have been slowness of dealings in grain at small net changes in price and sharp fluctuations of cotton, due mainly to contradictory advices as to the frost damage. The strength of the metal market deserves mention. Copper has reached the highest price in sixteen years and iron and steel show increased strength. All available supplies are eagerly taken despite the unprecedented production. In other lines of industry, activity is the rule, and labor scarcity is the cause of complaint from all quarters.

Jobbing trade, though of a between seasons character, is very large for the season. Especial activity is noted here in the wholesale circles in cotton fabrics, which tend upward on the stronger raw material prices. The spring trade is receiving increased attention and good orders are already noted.

By HENRY SETON MERRIMAN
Author of "The Sowers," "Roden's Corner," "From One Generation to Another," Etc.

COPYRIGHT, 1894, BY HARPER & BROTHERS

"Three months to get there," he answered at length, "one month to pick the leaf, and then you can bring the first crop down to the coast and home, while Meredith and I stay on at the plateau."

"I could be home again in eight months."

"Certainly. We thought that you might work the sale of the stuff in London, and in a couple of years or so, when the thing is in swing, Meredith will come home. We can safely leave the cultivation in native hands when once we have established ourselves up there and made ourselves respected among the tribes."

"I suppose," Guy said after a pause, "that there is the question of money?"

"Yes; Meredith and I have talked that over. The plan we fixed upon was that you and he each put a thousand pounds into it; I put five hundred. For the first two years we share the profits equally. After that we must come to some fresh arrangement should you or Meredith wish to give up an active part in the affair. I presume you would not want to come up at the end of the year with a handy squad of men to bring down the crop under escort?"

"No," responded Oscar after a moment's reflection. "I should be able to do that."

"I reckon," continued the other, "that the journey down could be accomplished in two months, and each time you do the trip you will reduce your time."

"Yes."

"Of course," Durmo went on, with the details which he knew were music in Oscar's ears—"of course we shall be a clumsy party going up. We shall have heavy loads of provisions, ammunition and seeds for cultivating the land up there."

"Yes," replied Guy Oscar absently. In his ears there rang already the steady plash of the paddle, the weird melancholy song of a boatman, the music of the wind amid the forest trees.

Durmo rose briskly.

"Then," he said, "you will join us? I may telegraph out to Meredith that you will join us?"

"Yes," replied Oscar simply. "You may do that."

"There is no time to be lost," Durmo went on. "Every moment wasted adds to the risk of our being superseded. I sail for Loango in a fortnight. Will you come with me?"

"Yes."

When Durmo had gone Guy sat down and wrote to Lady Cantourne accepting her invitation to spend a few days at Cantourne Place, on the Solent. He explained that his visit would be in the nature of a farewell, as he was about to leave for Africa for a little big game hunting.

Miss Millicent Chyne was walking on the sea wall at the end of the garden with Guy Oscar. One of the necessary requirements of a modern educational outfit is the power of looking perfectly at home in a score of different costumes during the year, and, needless to say, Miss Chyne was perfectly finished in this art. The manner in which she wore her sailor hat, her blue serge and her neat brown shoes conveyed to the onlooker, and especially the male of that species (we cannot in conscience call them observers), the impression that she was a yachtswoman born and bred. Her delicate complexion was enhanced by the faintest suggestion of sunburn and a few exceedingly becoming freckles. There was a freedom in her movements which had not been observed in London drawing rooms. This was Diana-like and in perfect keeping with the dainty sailor outfit; moreover, nine men out of ten would fall to attribute the difference to sundry cunning strings within the (London) skirt.

"It is sad," Millicent was saying, "to think that we shall have no more chances of sailing. The wind has quite dropped, that horrid tide is running, and this is your last day."

She ended with a little laugh, knowing full well that there was little sentiment in the big man by her side.

"Really," she went on, "I think I should be able to manage a boat in time, don't you think so? Please encourage me. I am sure I have tried to learn."

"I do not know if you have learned much," he answered, "but I have."

"What have you learned?" she asked in a low voice, half fascinated by the fanger into which she knew that she was running.

"That I love you," he answered, standing squarely in front of her and announcing the fact with a deliberate honesty which was rather startling.

"I was not sure of it before, so I stayed away from you for three weeks; but now I know for certain."

"Oh, you haven't said that!" She rose hastily and turned away from him. There was in her heart a sudden feeling of regret. It was the feeling that the keenest sportsman sometimes has when some majestic monarch of the forest falls before his merciless rifle—a sudden passing desire that it might be undone.

"Why not?" he asked. He was desperately in earnest, and that which made him a good sportsman—an unmatched big game hunter, calm and self-possessed in any strait—gave him a strange deliberation now, which Millicent Chyne could not understand.

"Why not?"

"I do not know—because you mustn't."

And in her heart she wanted him to say it again.

"I am not ashamed of it," he said, "and I do not see why I should not say it to you—or to any one else, so far as that goes."

"No, never!" she cried, really frightened. "To me it does not matter so much. But to no one else—no, never! Aunt Marian must not know it—nor Sir John."

"I cannot see that it is any business of Sir John's. Of course, Lady Cantourne would have liked you to marry a title; but if you cared for me she would be ready to listen to reason."

In which judgment of the good lady he was no doubt right, especially if reason spoke with the voice of £3,000 per annum.

"Do you care for me?" he asked, coming a little closer.

There was a whole world of gratified vanity and ungratified curiosity for her in the presence of this strong man at her elbow. It was one of the supreme triumphs of her life, because he was different from the rest. He was for her what the first tiger had been for him. The danger that he might come still nearer had for her a sense of keen pleasure. She was thoroughly enjoying herself, and the nearest approach that men can experience to the joy that was hers in the joy of battle.

"I cannot answer that—not now."

And the little half-shrinking glance over her shoulder was a low minded, unaimed invitation. But he was in earnest, and he was, above all, a gentleman. He stood his ground a yard away from her.

"Then when," he asked, "when will you answer me?"

She stood with her back turned toward him, looking out over the smooth waters of the Solent, where one or two yachts and a heavy black schooner were creeping up on the tide before the morning breeze. She drummed reflectively with her fingers on the low stone wall. Beneath them a few gulls whirled and screamed over a shoal of little fish. One of the birds had a singular cry, as if it were laughing to itself.

"You said just now," Millicent answered at length, "that you were not sure yourself—not at first—and therefore you cannot expect me to know all at once."

"You should know at once," he argued gravely, "if it were going to be 'no.' If you do not say 'no' now, I can only think that it may be 'yes' some day. And"—he came closer; he took the hand that hung at her side, conveniently near—"and I don't want you to say 'no' now. Don't say 'no.' I will wait as long as you like for 'yes.' Millicent, I would rather go on waiting and thinking that it is going to be 'yes,' even if it is 'no' after all."

She said nothing, but she left her hand in his.

"May I go on thinking that it will be 'yes' until I come back?"

"I cannot prevent your thinking, can I?" she whispered, with a tender look in her eyes.

"May I write to you?"

She shook her head.

"Well—I—I— Now and then," he pleaded. "Not often. Just to remind you of my existence."

She gave a little laugh, which he liked exceedingly and remembered afterward.

"If you like," she answered.

At this moment Lady Cantourne's voice was heard in the distance calling them.

"There!" exclaimed Millicent. "We must go at once. And no one—no one, must know of this."

"No one shall know of it," he answered.

CHAPTER IX.

THOSE who for their sins have been to Loango will scarcely care to have its beauties recalled to memory. And to such as have not visited the spot one can only earnestly recommend a careful avoidance.

Suffice it to say, therefore, that there is such a place, and the curious may find it marked in larger type than it deserves on the map of Africa, on the west coast of that country and within an inch or so of the equator.

"This is not cheery," Jack Meredith observed to his servant as they found themselves deposited on the beach within a stone's throw of the French factory.

"No, sir, not cheery, sir," replied Joseph. He was very busy attending to the landing of their personal effects and had only time to be respectful. It was Joseph's way to do only one thing at a time, on the principle no doubt that enough for the moment is the evil thereof. His manner implied that when those colored gentlemen had got the baggage safely conveyed out of the boats on to the beach it would be time enough to think about Loango.

It had been arranged by letter that Jack Meredith should put up, as his host expressed it, at the small bungalow occupied by Maurice Gordon and his sister. Gordon was the local head of a large trading association somewhat after the style of the old East India company, and his duties partook more of the glory of a governor than of the routine of a trader.

YOUNG PREACHER TRIES TO ELOPE

With Buxom Maiden Met At Country Revival.

Mother Notifies Police Who Intercept Couple at Station in Henderson.

HEADED FOR INDIANA SHORE

Henderson, Ky., Oct. 13.—The Rev. John Williams, a Baptist minister of this city, and Miss Maude Tapp, a pretty sixteen-year-old Webster county girl, were foiled here yesterday in their attempt to elope to Evansville or some other northern point, where they intended to find their Gretna Green. The young preacher, who is about 25 years of age, was conducting a revival meeting at Poole, Webster county, when he met the buxom maiden, and they soon fell desperately in love with each other. Within a few days the question was "popped," and it did not seem too sudden for the girl.

On Wednesday night Miss Tapp left home after telling her mother that she was going to spend the night with a neighbor. On yesterday morning she went to the schoolhouse as if there was nothing brewing. The dashing young minister drove from Poole to the schoolhouse, and there met his would-be bride. They drove rapidly to the nearest railroad station and took a train that would pass through this city. Patrolman Robert Bailey intercepted the young people here at noon.

The Kentucky State Medical society yesterday went on record as opposed to any reduction in the standard of insurance medical examiners and fixed the minimum fee at $5 for each examination. The big insurance companies were scored for an effort to procure cheap men for this purpose.

Tax Reform.

Tax reform was the dominant note in the Kentucky state development convention at Winchester yesterday, and it was the sense of the convention that efforts for reform be made again before the next general assembly. The committees are expected to make reports today touching on this subject and several addresses will be delivered, one by Lawson Parry, of New York.

White Wine and Red.

"A misapprehension about the strength of red and white wines exists," said "a Californian." Because red wine has a darker, richer look, people think it is more intoxicating. The opposite really is the case.

"Red wines are made by fermenting grape juice, skins and seeds together. White wines are made by fermenting grape juice alone."

"In the skins and seeds there is a lot of tannin, and red wine contains much tannin, while white wine contains none. This tannin an astringent, closes the pores of the stomach and prevents the alcohol in the red wine from entering the blood freely and going, as the saying is, to the head."

"White wine—champagne, for instance—has no tannin, and hence its intoxicating properties are much more keenly to be feared than those of the tannin-filled red wine."—Philadelphia Bulletin.

France's Big Wheat Crop.

The organ of the French Corn Exchange places the wheat crop of that country at 350,630,000 bushels, which is about 13,000,000 bushels in excess of last year's harvest and 24,000 above the past ten-year average. This does not include the wheat harvest of French Algeria, which amounts to 21,000,000 bushels, or nearly double that of last year, and which enters France free of duty.

Accordingly, France will not have to import any wheat from outside of its own territory, and demand upon the great surplus produced this year in the United States will so far be reduced. This will not be helpful to the profitable marketing of the excessive American production.—Springfield Republican.

A Kaffir Story.

Here is a good Kaffir story which has the merit of being true. A Christian Zulu-Kaffir was heard recounting to another Kaffir, with all the fullness and picturesqueness their language so well allows, a vision of heaven which he had had in a dream, and he described in detail what heaven was like. "And saw you any Kaffirs there?" inquired his listener. The teller of the story pondered a while, and then: "No," said he, "for I did not look into the kitchen."—London Standard.

THEATRICAL NOTES

body's new triumph is shared by Charles Dalton, Frank Losee, Edward Mack, Lillian Lamson, Louise Rial and Gertrude Wolfe.

Eleanor Robson.

Eleanor Robson inaugurated her 30 weeks' season at the Liberty theater, New York, with Israel Zangwill's new play, "Nurse Marjorie," on October 3, Miss Robson will present ten new plays among which may be "The Lady of Dreams," "Agatha," "Unleavened Bread," "The Girl Who Has Everything," "Susan in Search of a Husband." A new one act play by Alfred Sutro and a new one act play by Miss Clotilde Graves.

Miss Russell's Puck.

It was not reverential awe of Shakespeare, nor blithesome esteem of a comedy of his, nor yet interest in a new theater bearing the name of the Astors, that moved most of those who went on the opening night to see the reproduction of "A Midsummer Night's Dream." Annie Russell would be the Puck. That was the object of curiosity, expectation and the special interest.

Well, Miss Russell tricked and fooled the audience neatly as to her appearance and nicely as to her performance. She did not attempt to make her Puck look like a babyish boy, scant of both care and clothes, but like a youthful court jester, ample of raiment and somewhat satanic in his rogueries.

This Puck is wired for both light and power. He makes his entrance from aloft, alights on the branch of a tree, flies across the scene to a moss bank, which the tips of his toes barely dent, and settles down on the ground as though exempt from the law of gravitation.

Tabloid Tragedy.

Mrs. Hugo de Bathe, daughter-in-law of Sir Henry de Bathe of England, and better known as Mrs. Lily Langtry, "the Jersey Lily," arrived from Europe this morning for the engagement of eighteen weeks in vaudeville in America. When asked, "What's the title of your sketch?" Mrs. Langtry exclaimed:

"For heaven's sake, please don't ever refer to my playlet as a sketch! That sounds too vaudevillianous for anything. I never could stand it. I call my endeavor 'A tabloid tragedy.'"

The name of the tabloid tragedy is "Twixt the Nightfall and the Light," a line from Browning.

"Tabloid plays are all the rage in Europe, especially in Paris. I think they will be more and more important in America after Americans see some of the best European tabloids."

Not Up On Classic Art.

A story is going the rounds of the clubs of a Chicago millionaire who ordered a replica of the Venus of Milo to be delivered at his home.

When the case arrived and was opened the millionaire discovered there were no arms, and threatened to bring action against the railroad company for damages. The company sent an official to inquire into the matter, found that the arms were missing—and paid.—New York Evening Post.

His Revenge.

Butcher Ludwig was continually being robbed of meat by a large black tom cat belonging to a next door neighbor. Finally his temper got the best of him, and he poisoned the cat.

The cat's owner, the next morning, found his large black cat lying dead before his door. He knew at once who had done the killing, and with a low, bitter oath he took the dead cat up by the tail and went indoors.

Butcher Ludwig had happened to advertise for the week a mark-down sale on sausage. That night his shop was thronged with sausage buyers. Suddenly, when the crowd was thickest, the outraged neighbor elbowed his way through the people and threw upon the chopping block the dead body of the huge dead black cat.

"There you are, Mr. Ludwig," he said. "That makes thirty-five, I'll bring the fifteen others when you are not so busy."

Supt. Lieb Is a Fan.

C. M. Lieb, the popular superintendent of the city schools, is an athlete and a baseball fan. He takes great interest in the fight being made at Chicago between the Sox and Cubs and is an admirer of the Cubs. Supt. ## MOST IMPORTANT INSTITUTE WORK

Commissioner Vreeland Asks Cooperation of Farmers.

Big Meetings to Be Held in Paducah and Lexington for Benefit of Whole State.

FINE SPEAKERS TO BE SENT.

Commissioner of Agriculture Vreeland is sending the following communications:

"This is to be the busiest year in the farmers' institute work ever known in the state. In addition to the holding of an institute in every county in the state and the annual state institute, we are arranging to hold two big special institutes. The first of these will be held at Paducah, Ky., October 18, 19 and 20, under the auspices of this department and the Paducah Commercial club. This will be known as the Western Kentucky Institute. As one of these special institutes has never been held in western Kentucky, I respectfully urge that every Farmers' club in the state send a large delegation to Paducah on the above dates. The title 'Western Kentucky Institute' does not signify that it is for the people of that section alone, but the farmers in every county in the state are expected to participate.

The second special institute will be held at Lexington, Ky., October 23, 24 and 25, under the auspices of this department, the Kentucky State Grange and the Fayette County Farmers' club.

Both of these institutes will be addressed by prominent institute lecturers, who will not only present the scientific side of farming, but the practical side as well. The success of institute work in Kentucky depends upon the co-operation of the farmers. I therefore, respectfully request that the president of every Farmers' club call a meeting at the earliest date practical and select delegates who will agree to attend these mammoth meetings."

Dear Sirs:—I had suffered from stomach troubles for nearly two years, and found no relief from the many different patent medicines which I had tried. I was at last relieved of my trouble. ## Theatrical Notes

NEXT WEEK AT THE KENTUCKY.

Tuesday Night ..... "Simple Simon Simple."
Wednesday Night ..... Tim Murphy, in "Old Innocence."
Saturday Matinee and Night ..... Jane Kennark, in "The Toast of the Town."

"Simple Simon Simple."

The Nixon & Zimmerman Opera company will appear at the Kentucky Tuesday night in the great musical cartoon extravaganza, "Simple Simon Simple." The company is the same that met with such hearty approval in New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh last season and its tour of the one night cities this season has been creating a great deal more than usual interest for it is seldom that such a strong company is sent on tour. The scenic equipment is elaborate, the company an unusually large one and the engagement is expected to be a notable event.

At The Kentucky Wednesday.

There is every indication that the revival of "Old Innocence" by Tim Murphy will be the most satisfactory undertaking made by him in some time, for among the many comedy presentations of his repertoire in past seasons it is to be questioned whether any of them ever met with the same degree of approval that has been accorded this beautiful play. Taken from the same French source that furnished that great success, "A Pair of Spectacles," "Old Innocence" tells a strong story of human nature and natural coincidences, and abounds with a number of the most cleverly conceived comedy conditions. Its many characters are true to life and each is so charmingly quaint and convincing as to stand prominently forth through its own naturalness. No character portrayed by Tim Murphy quite equalled for truthful simplicity that of Jason Green, and in the hands of this excellent player it received in every sense its just due. Mr. Murphy's revival of "Old Innocence" bids fair to establish him as the leading exponent on the American stage of characters of the quaint and dignified order. The revival of "Old Innocence" has been made with excellent players. Among them are Dorothy Sherrod, Louise Whitfield, Mrs. Aubrey Powell and O. J. Griffin.

Jane Kennark.

Jane Kennark will be seen at The Kentucky Saturday matinee and night:

appearing as Betty Singleton in Clyde Fitch's play, "The Toast of the Town." Miss Kennark has achieved one of the greatest successes of her career in the play. Betty Singleton is a role that has given Miss Kennark, it seems, great opportunities for the display of her fine abilities, both as a comedienne and as an emotional actress. Her business has been the best that she has ever enjoyed in the cities where she has appeared, which proves rather conclusive that Miss Kennark's faith in this play was founded on a solid basis.

Prince of India.

It is not overstating the case to say that never before in the history of the American stage has there been presented so costly a dramatic spectacle as "The Prince of India," which was brought forward on Monday night at the Broadway Theatre under the managerial guidance of Klaw and Erlanger. When the curtain rolled up disclosing the first picture of the acting version of General Wallace's story the investment of the managers of this gigantic undertaking had reached approximately $100,000, which assuredly will not be considered a negligently plunge even by those who are quite convinced that the ruling forces in the amusement world of this day are in deadly opposition to the idea of adequately presenting plays of large calibre and worthy character. In a pictorial sense, "The Prince of India" is undeniably magnificent, and in the interpretation of its numerous roles the widely known actors and actresses engaged are as well chosen as possible. The play itself, in which are combined the principal episodes of the voluminous novel, is always impressive and at times intensely moving. It was received on Monday evening with plaudits that frequently arose to the point of spontaneous acclamation, and there can be little doubt that it will command a large volume of prosperity in the metropolis and elsewhere. The cast includes such players as Emmett Corrigan, William Farnum, Boyd Putnam, Harrison Armstrong, Adelaide Keim, Julie Herne and an unusually large number of others held in widespread favor—for the list of speaking characters embraces no less than thirty-nine personages.

Mr. Tim Murphy, in his greatest comedy success, "Old Innocence," at The Kentucky Wednesday night.

There are five acts and ten scenes in "The Prince of India," and the supernumerary forces are sufficiently numerous to fairly throng the uncommonly commodious stage of the
